

The Endacott Society of the Alumni Association

Founders Day 2009

A presentation by Jerry Niebaum on September 10, 2009

Lucille & Paul Endacott - 1988

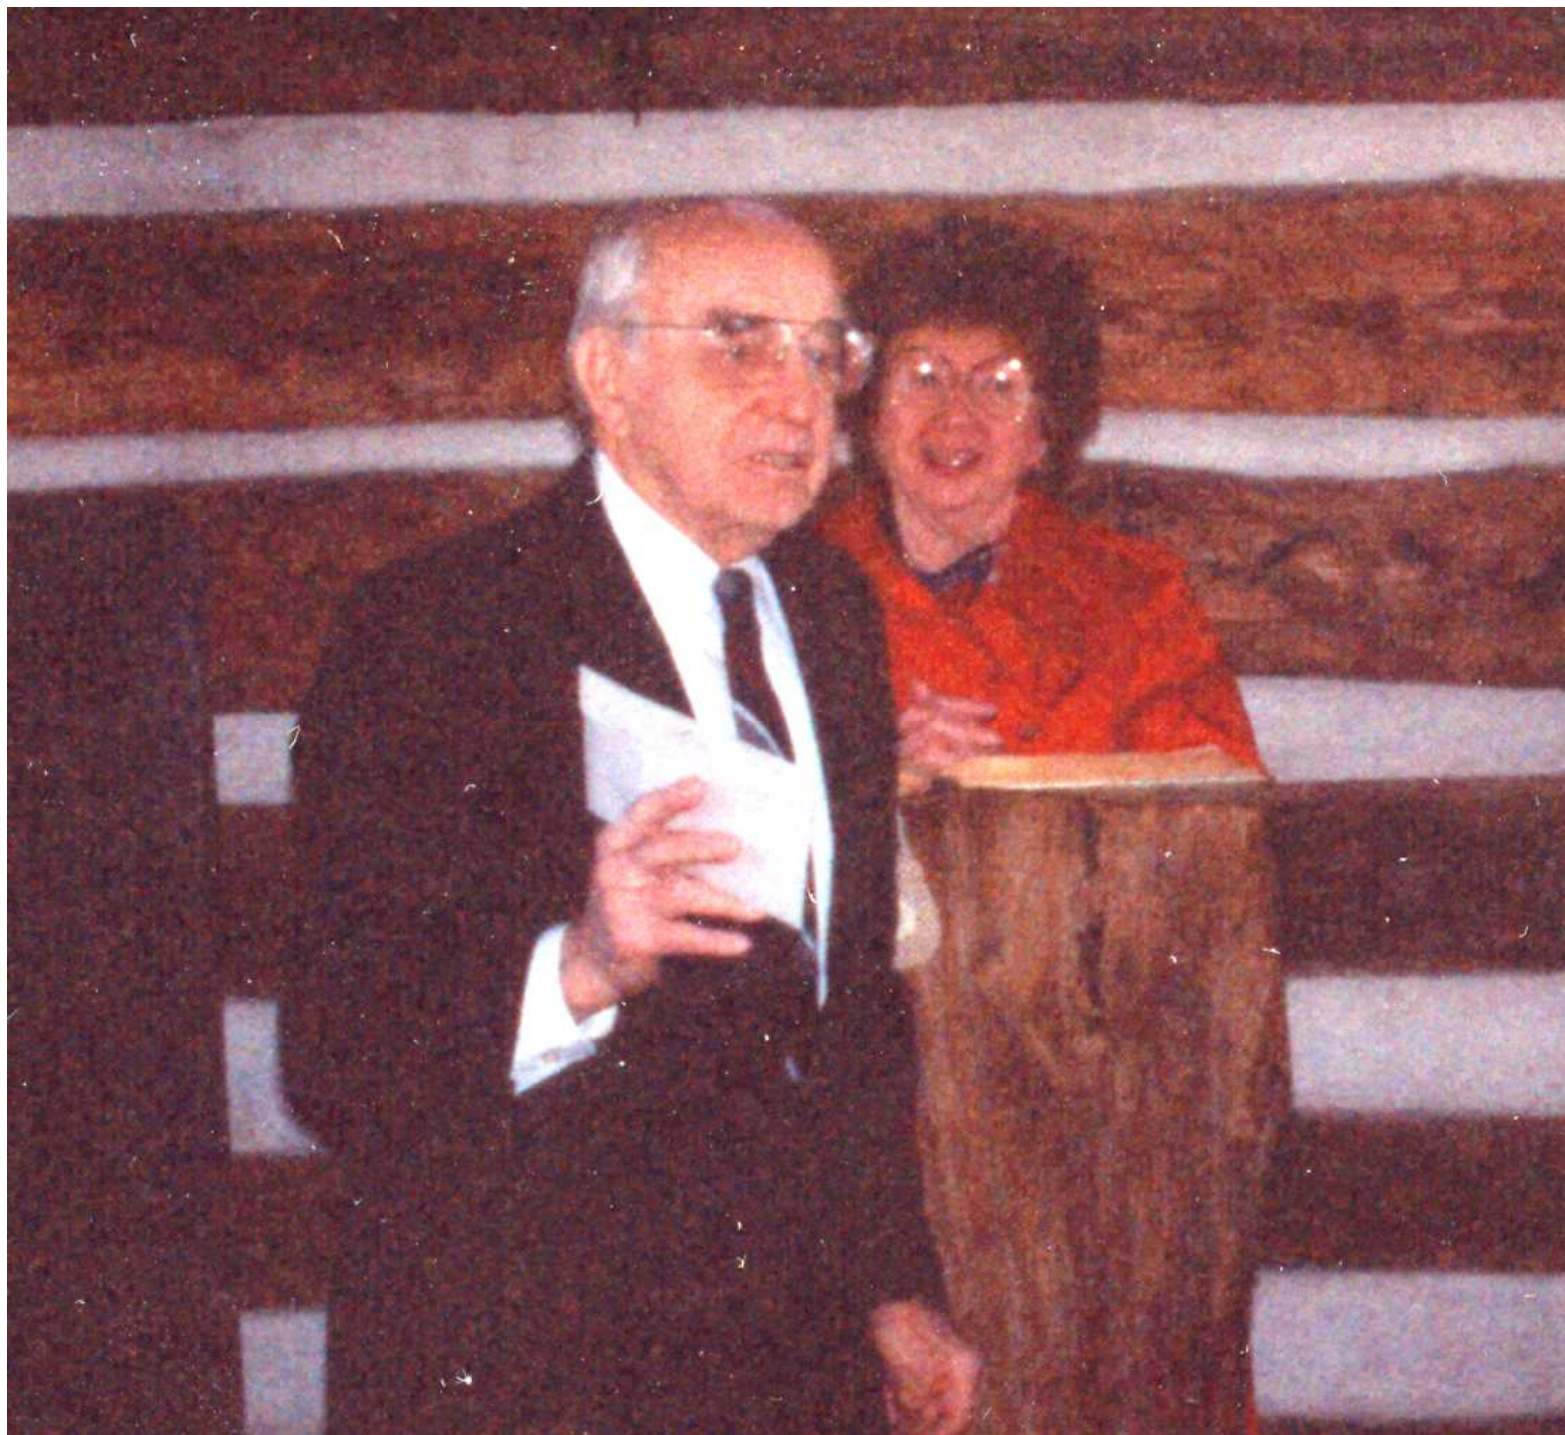

Mildred Clodfelter, Lucille Endacott, Baley Price, Cora Lee Price, Paul Endacott

No
El
Phy
Bi

Former KU prof dies at age 82

Monday, July 31, 1989

Henry A. Shenk, who was a Kansas University faculty member for more than three decades, died Saturday morning at the age of 82, while vacationing in Nederland, Colo.

Shenk and his wife, Katherine, lived in Lawrence, but traveled to a mountain cabin in Colorado every summer where they pitched horseshoes and fished for trout, according to their son, Bob Shenk.

Shenk, who had served for 16 years on the Lawrence School Board, was professor emeritus of health, physical education and recreation at KU and chairman of the department for 27 years. He retired in 1976 after 48 years of teaching and coaching in Kansas.

1
ACCORDING TO Olin Petefish, a local attorney and Shenk's friend for 40 years, "Henry Shenk was one of the finest gentlemen that has been at the university and a

Henry A. Shenk

The University of Kansas
Annual Retirement Dinner for Faculty and Unclassified Staff

6:00 p.m.
Wednesday, May 3, 1989
Kansas Union Ballroom

Sponsored by
The Kansas University
Endowment Association

Paul Endacott (with Lucille standing beside him) celebrating his 93rd birthday. 7-13-95

From the desk of —
Paul Endacott

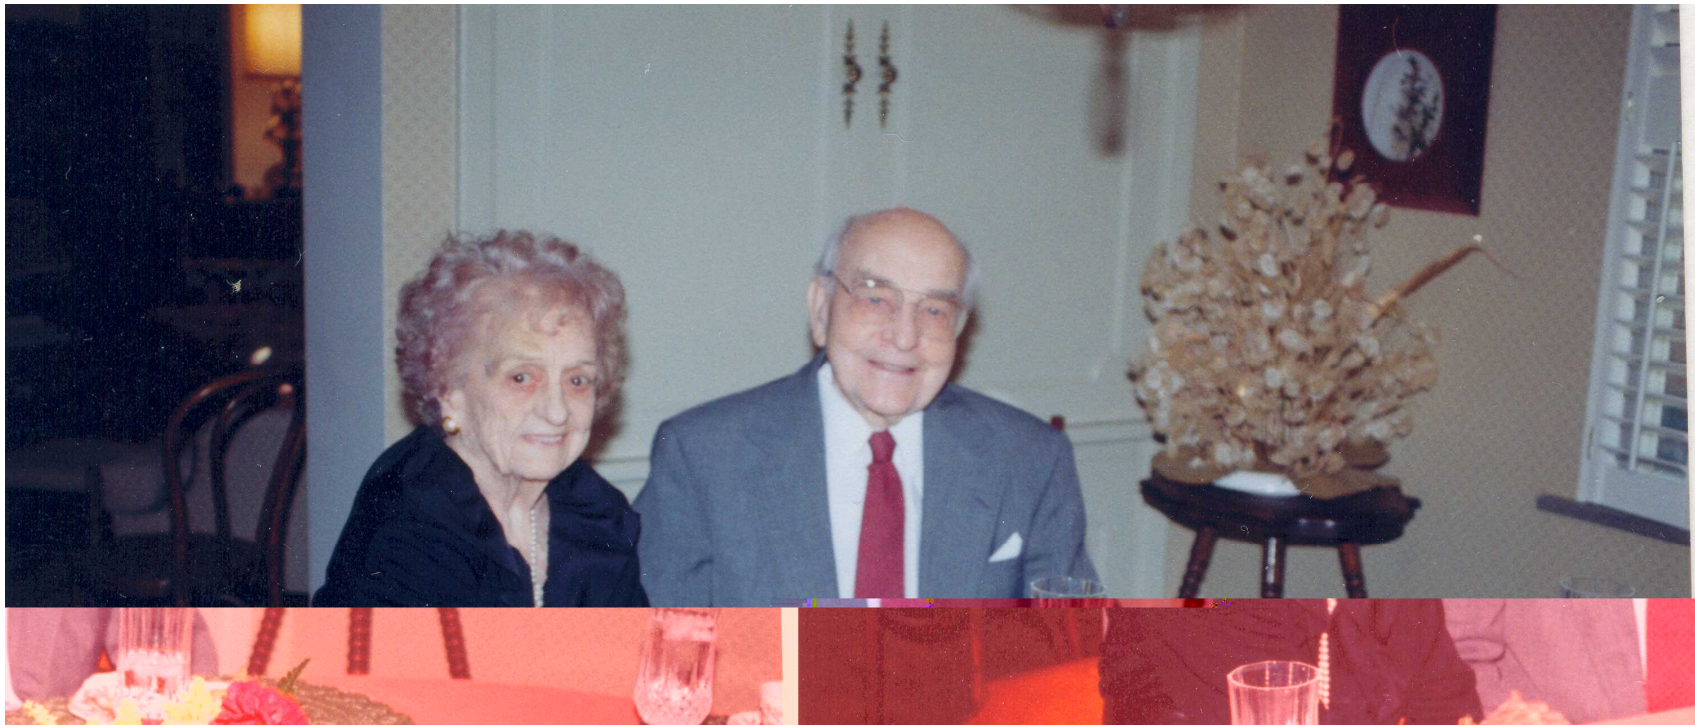

July 1996

Dear Members of the K.A.
Retirees Club,

Many thanks for your kind birthday wishes.

Mildred Moore took this enclosed picture to show how I celebrated.

Sincerely
Lucille and Paul

Lucille and Paul Endacott
Thanksgiving Day
11-28-96

Library

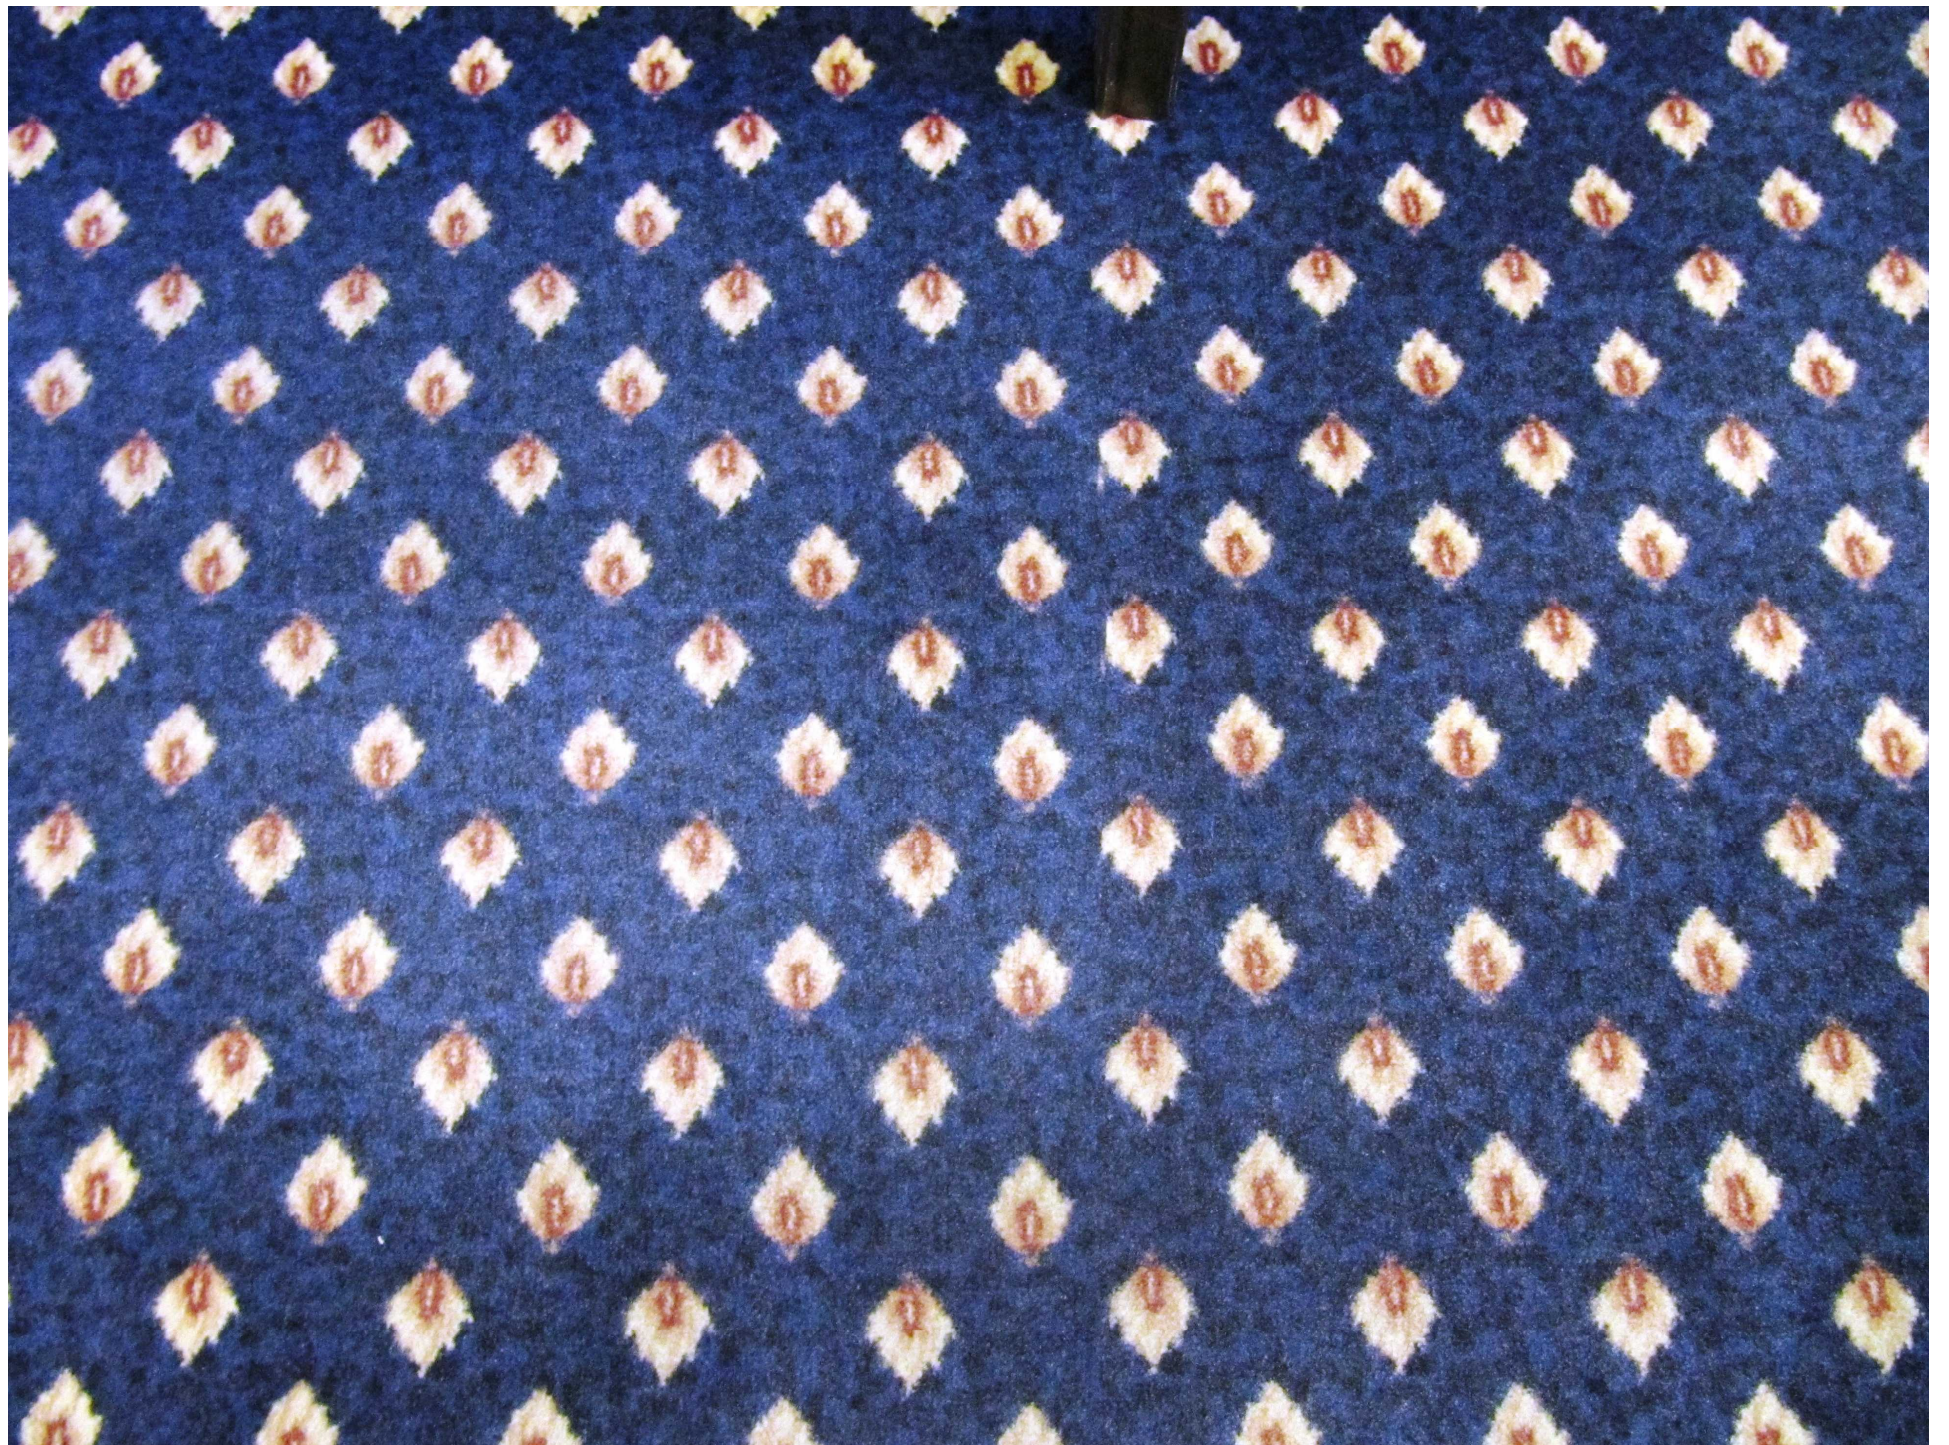

Treasures

Painting by Robert Sudlow in the Adams Alumni Center Library
Donated by Edwyna Gilbert in memory of her husband, William.

Other Scrapbook Treasures

(above) Assoc. Prof. Arno Knapper, recipient of a 1971 HOPE Award for teaching excellence.

You're A Good Man,
G R A N T
Happy Birthday!

Grant Goodman

Happy Birthday
Arnold Weiss!

With love, from your daughters

Garden Group 1998

— Chris Ochsner/The Capital-Journal

State Insurance Commissioner Kathleen Sebelius, right, expressed her displeasure with the consumer service provided by the State Employees Health Care Commission during a news conference Tuesday. With Sebelius were retired state employees Evelyn Swartz, left, and Grant Goodman, who said they were shocked to learn of premium increases in their state employee health plans and that they were made to feel like they were excess baggage because of their age.

CITIZEN OF THE YEARS

Nancy Hambleton honored for lifetime of service to city

Friday, April 6, 2001

J-W Staff Reports

Nancy Hambleton has spent the majority of her life serving others and following intellectual pursuits.

Today, she is being honored by the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce for her longtime commitment to Lawrence.

Cathy Lewis, director of programs for the chamber, said, "She's had a significant impact on the community. Her service for the community has gone on for many, many years, and she continued to be involved."

Originally from Lancaster, Pa., Hambleton has called Lawrence home since 1947. Her husband, William, is director emeritus of the Kansas Geological Survey and professor emeritus of geology at Kansas University.

Nancy Hambleton shares her husband's love for learning, having graduated with a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Once in Lawrence, has the distinction of serving as Lawrence's first female city commissioner, and the city's mayor from April 1973 to April 1974. She has been involved in numerous civic groups and boards for many years.

NANCY HAMBLETON

Richard Gwin/Journal-World Photo

• Saturday, September 21, 2002

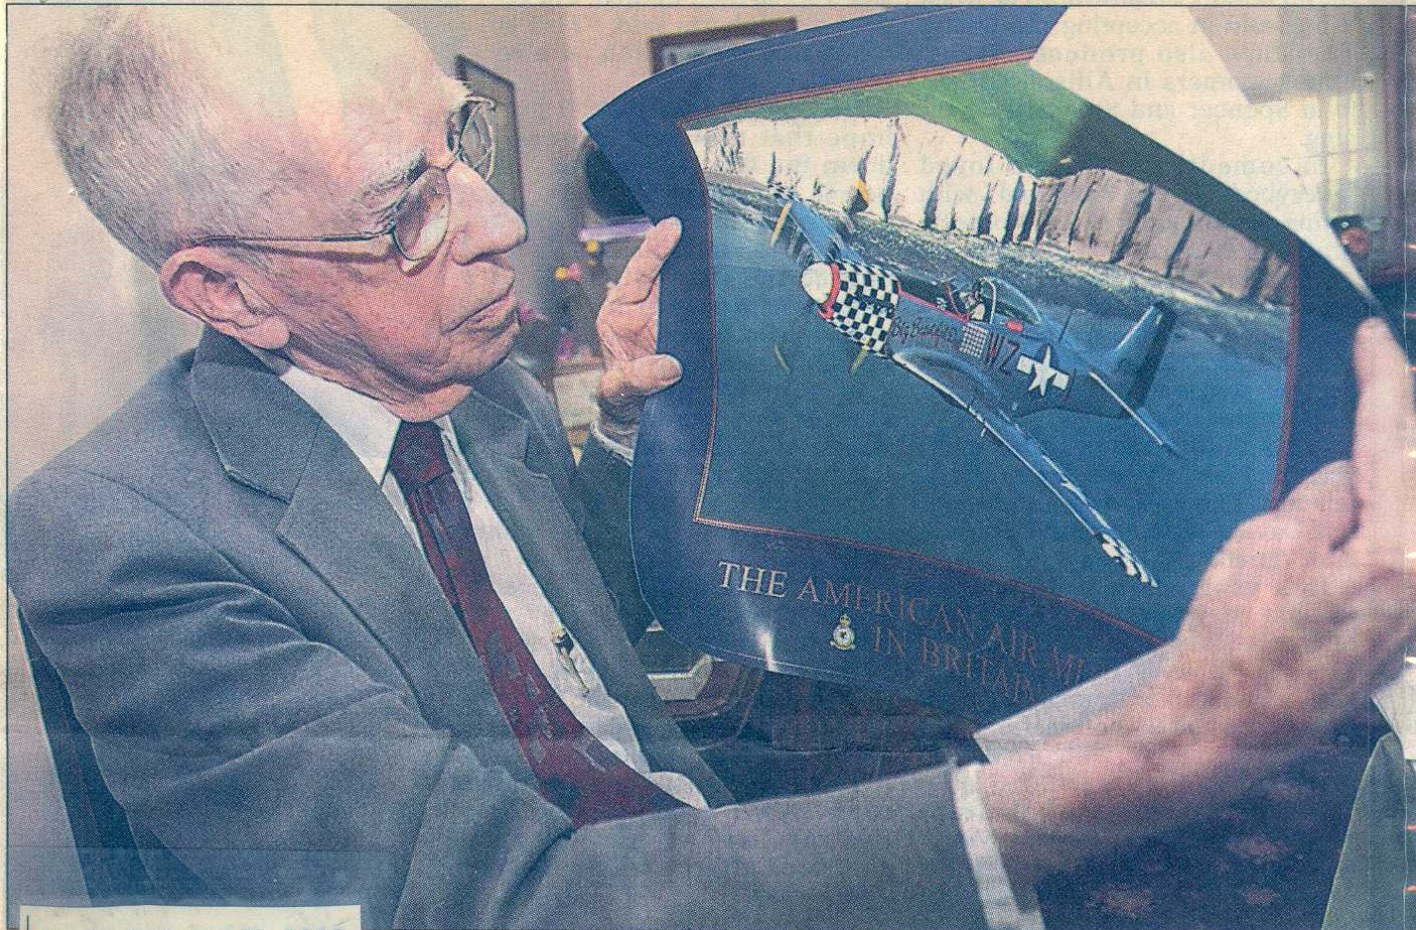

Matt Daugherty/Journal-World Photo

CORDELL D. MEEKS JR., LEFT, R.A. Edwards, center, and James E. Seaver are recipients of the Kansas University Alumni Association's Ellsworth Medallion this year. The three were awarded the Alumni Association's highest honor during a dinner Friday at the Adams Alumni Center. They also attended a reception at the Outlook, the chancellor's residence.

KU Alumni Association honors three with Ellsworth Medallions

KU PROF TO HELP DEDICATE ENGLISH WAR MUSEUM

Monday, September 23, 2002

Scott McClurg/Journal-World Photo

G. BAILEY PRICE LOOKS AT A COMMEMORATIVE PICTURE of a P-51 Mustang from the American Air Museum in Great Britain. Price, 97, will be attending dedication ceremonies at the museum near Cambridge. Price was a mathematics professor at Kansas University who was sent to England during World War II to help the military improve bombing accuracy.

World War II took mathematician from chalkboard to drawing board

RAYMOND NICHOLS

Memorial services for Raymond Francis Nichols, 95, Lawrence, will be at 11 a.m. Friday at Plymouth Congregational Church. Private inurnment will take place in Pioneer Cemetery.

Mr. Nichols died Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1999, at Lawrence Presbyterian Manor.

He was born Dec. 30, 1903, in Larned, the son of Charles A. and Etta Jane (Cook) Nichols. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Kansas University, where he was Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. Nichols was a journalist before serving as executive secretary to the university, vice chancellor for finance and chancellor at KU. He was instrumental in developing the KU Alumni Center and the KU Space Technology Center, which is named after him.

He received the Distinguished Service Award and the Ellsworth Medallion, KU's highest accolades, and was named a chancellor emeritus of KU.

Other awards included: Lawrence Citizen of the Year; Paul Harris Fellowship from Rotary

■ October 15, 1999

Ray Nichols dies at 95

Chancellor emeritus retired in 1973 after 44 years of service to KU

KU's 12th chancellor, Raymond F. Nichols, died at age 95 on Oct. 12 at Presbyterian Manor.

Nichols served as chancellor from 1972 to 1973. Raymond Nichols Hall, KU's Space Technology Center, was named for Nichols in recognition of his promotion of significant research, educational and service activities at KU.

Nichols, who worked for 44 years at KU, retired in 1973.

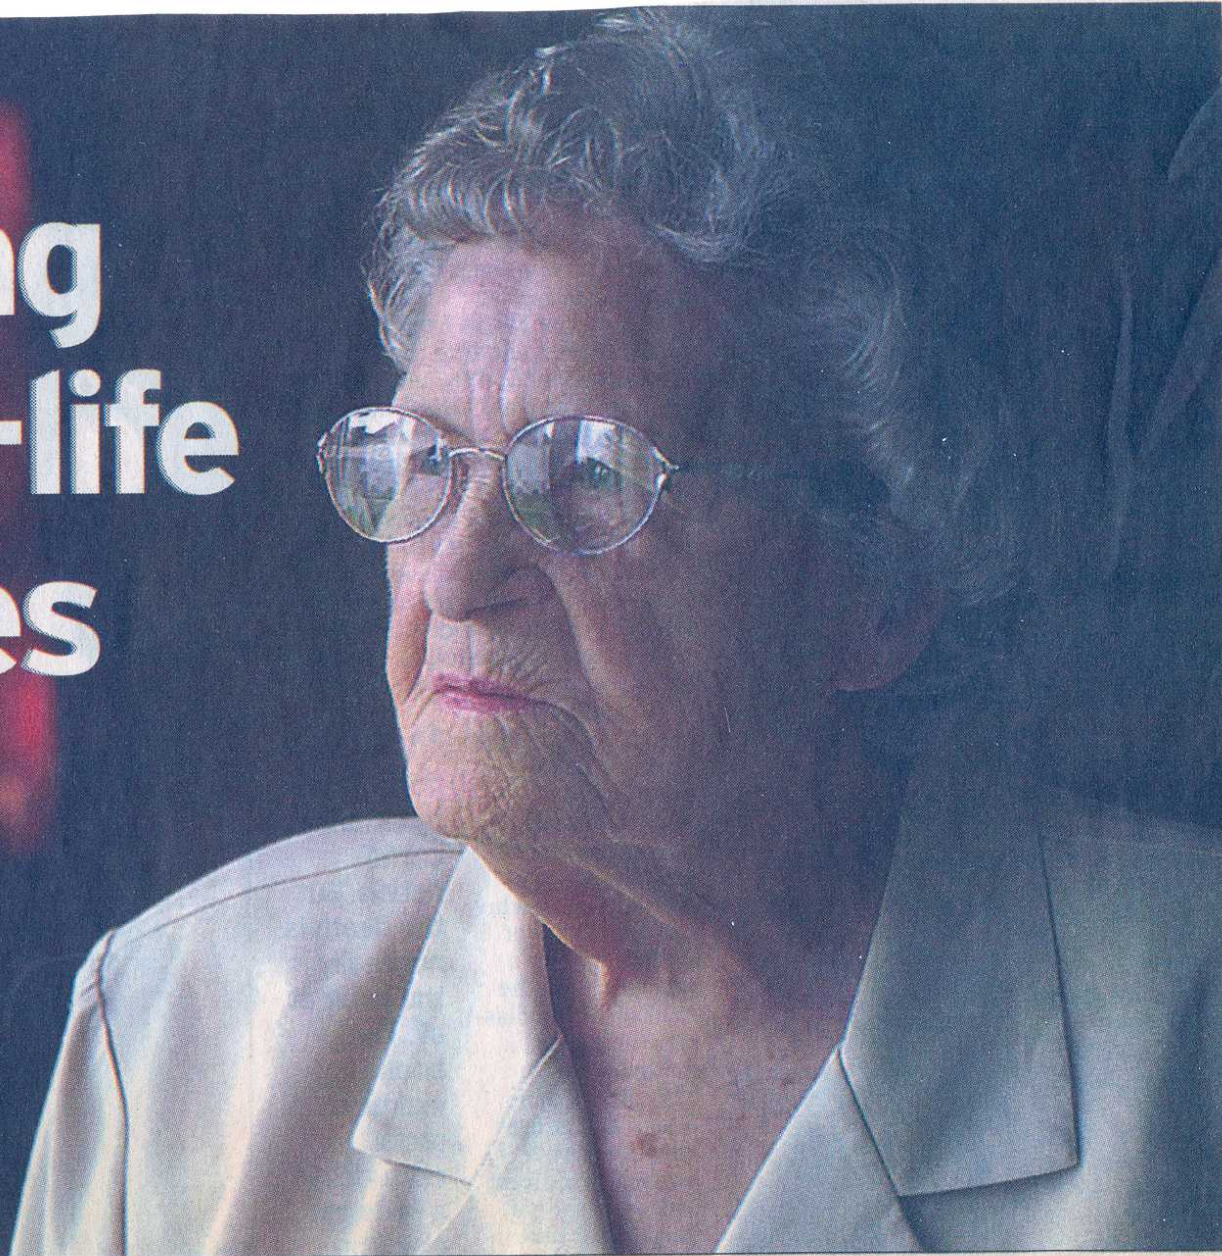

"Raymond Nichols' involvement with the University of Kansas spanned more than 70 years," Chancellor Robert Hemenway said. "No one cared more about KU than he did."

"His death is a great loss for the university and for me,

Raymond F. Nichols

Facing end-of-life issues

Scott McClurg/Journal-World Photo

3 EMILY TAYLOR, a Lawrence resident who is a member of the Kansas Board of Healing Arts, is the chair of Lawrence Caring Community Council, a group promoting awareness of issues surrounding death and dying.

Past

Presidents

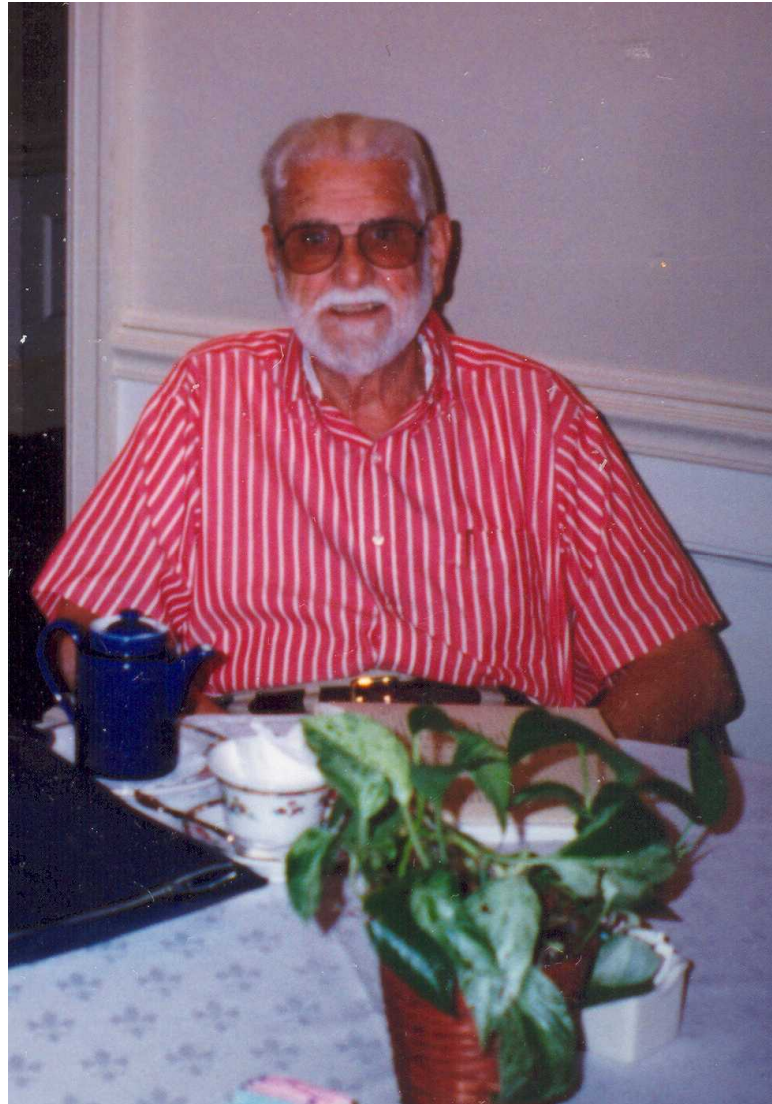

Ray Nichols 1983-85

First President of the Retirees Club which became the Endacott Society

1

Joe Marzluff 1985-87

2

G. Baley Price 1987-88

Margaret Peg Saricks 1988-89

4

Arno Knapper 1989-91

Bill Kelly 1991-92

6

Pat Collinson (Kelly)

1992-93

George Forman 1993-94

Ruth

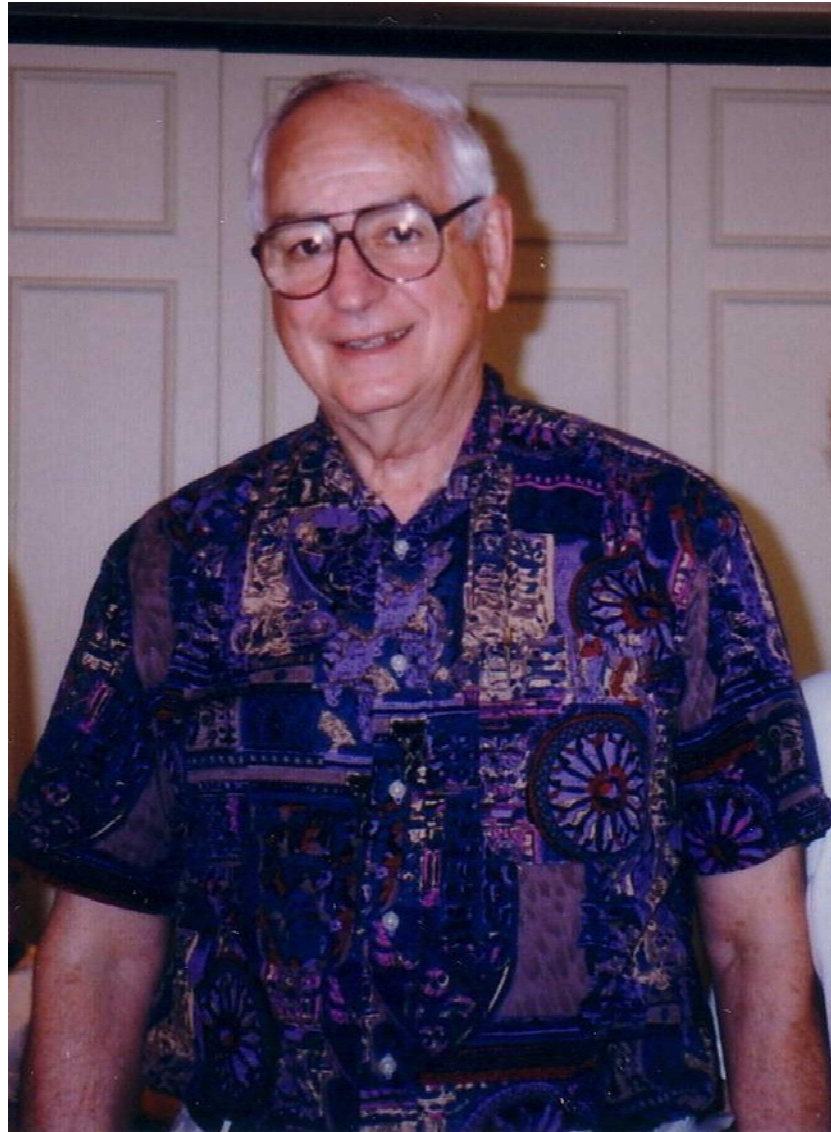

8

Nancy Hambleton 1994-95

9

Hob Crockett 1995-96

10

Evelyn Swartz 1996-97

10

Grant Goodman 1997-98

12

Art Lamb 1998-99

Lee Young 1999-2000

14

Barbara McCorkle 2000-01

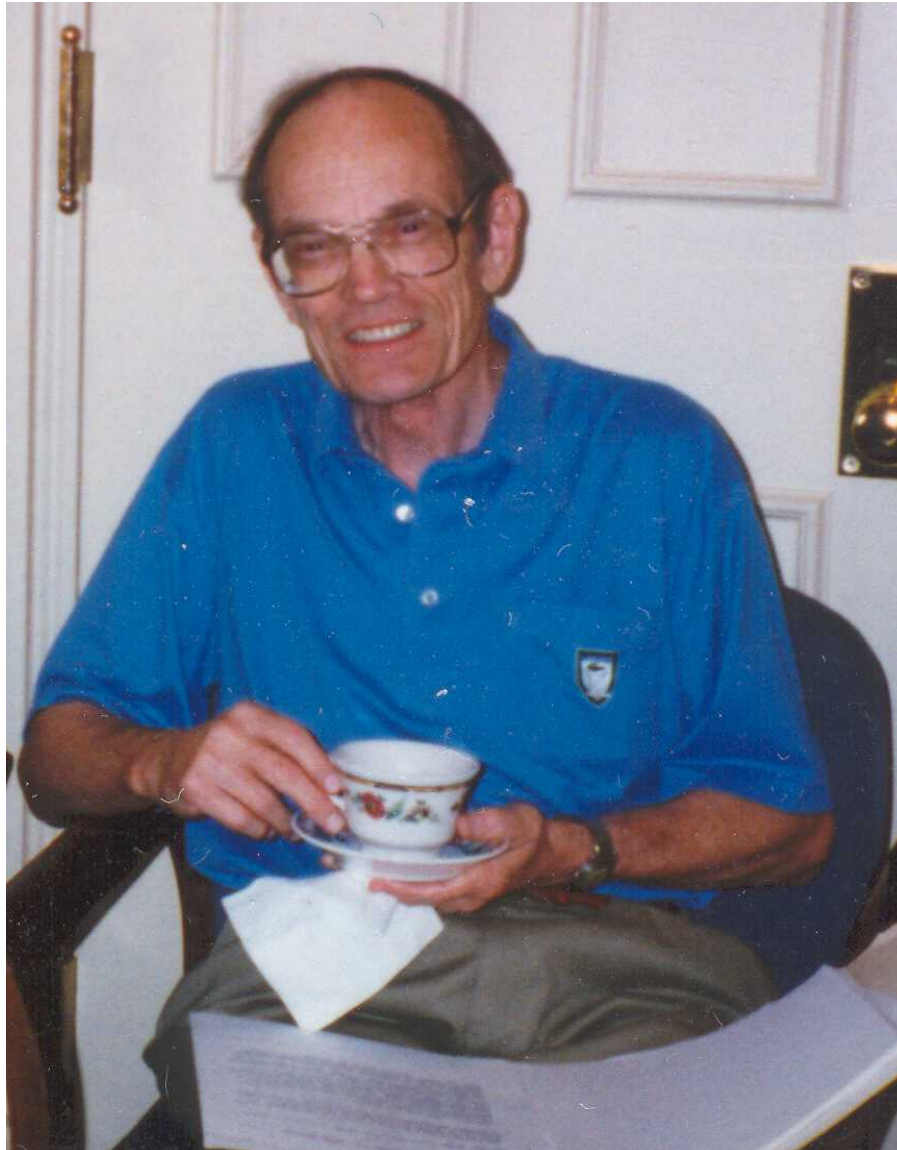

15

Margaret Daicoff 2001-02

16

Albert Sellen 2002-03

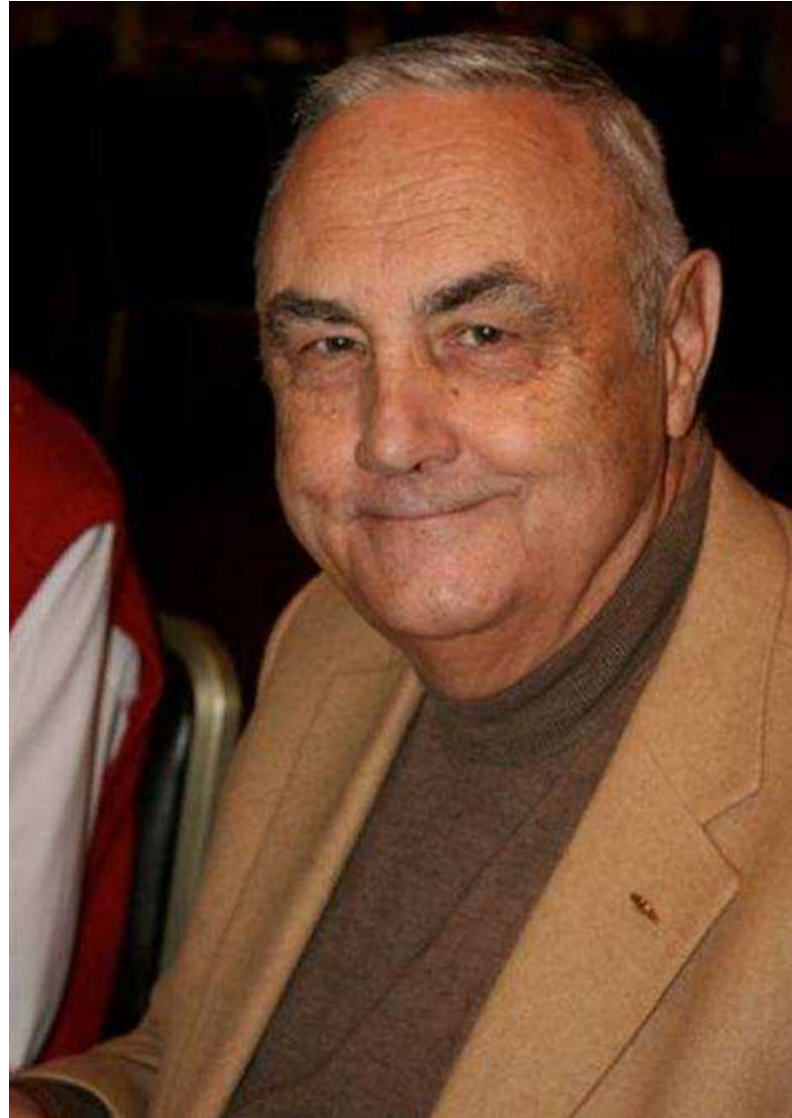

17

Fred Madaus 2003-04

18

Max Lucas 2004-05

19

Edwynna Gilbert 2005-06

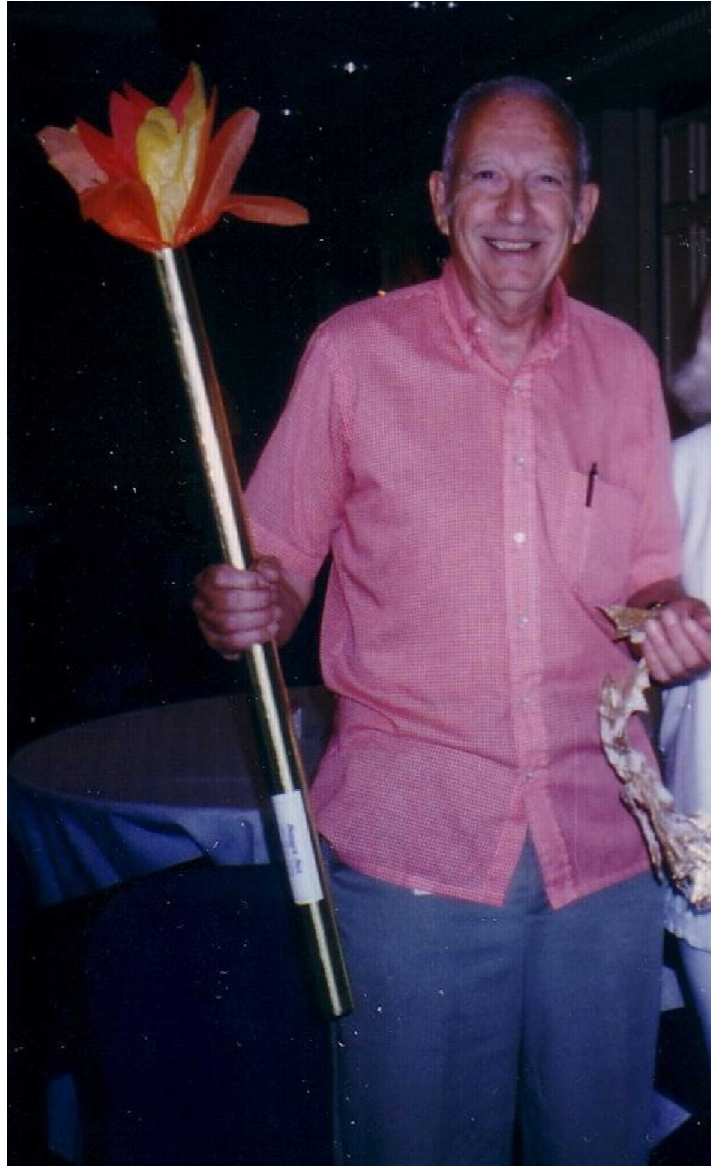

20

Tom Eblen 2006-07

21

Arnold Weiss 2007-08

Jerry Niebaum 2008-09

23

Vic Wallace 2009-10

24

For all the scrapbook memories

Thank you
Gwen Mitchell

