February 12— 1:30 in the Paul Adam Lounge. We'll see Albert Lewin's interpretation of The Flying Dutchman starring James Mason and Ava Gardner. The 1951 drama/mystery/fantasy follows a 17th Century sailor who has been cursed by God to wander the sea until doomsday unless a woman comes along to sacrifice herself to save him. Run time: 122 minutes. Come at 1:15 for coffee and cookies, then a movie.

February 26—1:30 in the Summerfield Room. Based on Ed McBain's detective novel King's Ransom, Akira Kurosawa's High and Low (1963) features Toshiro Mifune as the wealthy industrialist whose family becomes the target of a cold-blooded kidnapper. The film moves effortlessly from compelling race-against-time thriller to exacting social commentary, creating a penetrating portrait of contemporary Japanese society.
